4. Students withdrawing from internship before /after joining the company also will be considered as “dropping of offer”

Violation of PAT Norms:

1. Students planning for higher studies are not eligible for Dream/Super Dream offers. They are allowed to attend only Software services company’s interviews (Like TCS, Cognizant, Infosys etc.). VIT will not issue “No Objection certificate” or recommendation letters to those students who get selected in Dream /Super dream companies and later plan to pursue their higher education. Dream /Super dream companies will be notified in PAT notices.
2. Students who reject a Dream or Super Dream offer (Placement or Internship) after getting selected; have to do an additional academic course to complete their degree requirements. The academic course has to be completed in the final semester (no extension shall be given). The details of the academic course to be completed will be shared by the Dean (Academics) later. This also applies to the students who get Pre Placement Offers after the summer internships. The earlier rule of not getting the recommendation letter from the Professors for higher education also would remain. “Once the higher PAT/CDC offer is declined by the student, all the previous offers through PAT will also get cancelled/not considered”
3. Only registered students will be allowed for campus interviews and other training programs organized by the placement centre. Those students attending campus interviews without registering and not fulfilling the eligibility criteria (as on date of selection test) would be summarily rusticated from the University for Bringing Disgrace to the University.
4. It is found that Students who get placed in Dream or Super Dream are violating the PAT norms and attending the off campus placements. Students who get placed with on campus full time/internship placement (dream or super dream) must accept the offer without fail and cannot decline. Those who are going to get placed in Dream or Super Dream placements should follow the PAT norms. Students who are violating the norms will face severe disciplinary action.

Note:

All the companies allow students with no current backlogs for the selection process.

3. All the companies allow students with no current backlogs / required credits completed for the selection process.
